Lindsay woman charged with murder of 8 yr. old son

LINDSAY — A woman here has been charged with the alleged first degree murder of her son and attempted murder of her daughter was described as a perfect mom who would do anything for her kids.

The mother, Cheryl Coles 30, and her daughter Angela Marie, six are in satisfactory condition at Ross Memorial hospital, where they were taken unconscious Tuesday night.

The son, Benjamin, died Tuesday of a drug overdose. The children were found by their father Clive a GM worker when he returned from work. Mrs. Coles was arrested in hospital on Friday.

Shocked neighbours on the quiet street said they can't believe this happened to a woman so devoted to her children. She seemed like the perfect mother, one woman said. Other neighbours described Mrs. Coles as a quiet, but well liked woman who took part in many community activities.

Lindsay Police Chief Jack Wales said the incident is under investigation but "we're treating it as a murder and an attempted murder." He added that samples of drugs which killed the son have been sent to Toronto for forensic testing.

STANHOPE NOTES

by A. F. Stevenson

Rumours circulating during the past week, re: the fire department, were quickly disposed of and proved to be worthless as the result of Reeve Harrison's action in insisting on an open discussion of the matter before township council last Wednesday.

As a result of a remark made at a recent cottagers meeting to the effect that response to a fire alarm could be as low as only three firemen turning out, the Reeve received some complaints and immediately asked for attendance reports at the past 15 fire calls. These indicated attendance to range from six to 15 at a fire with others on stand by if required.

With the fire chief, and also the chairman of the fire committee, councillor Elvin Johnson present, council entered into a discussion of the matter and the fire chief emphatically declared that he was satisfied with the response of the members of the department as well as with their training results.

When asked for his comment on the rumours, councillor Johnson stated that five men could handle most fires (on first response) and that in his opinion there was always an adequate turn out to an alarm. Councillor Davis who was also present at the association meeting was non-plussed at the statement re: three men turning out to a fire call. He pointed out that at the recent chimney fire at his residence, involving two calls, there were eight men in response to the first call and seven at the return call and this was besides those remaining at the hall on stand by call.

The figures indicate average attendance at the various fires at better than nine men, with the evening and weekend figure being in the area of 15 men. Since most of the men are working or looking after business the difference in response to day or night calls is understandable. In any event it was agreed that the lower response figure was six, with the fire chief advising others to remain on standby should they be needed.

It is not acceptable for demeaning remarks or rumours to be circulated about the efforts of those men whose service to the community is so important. Whatever the motives of those who delight in this kind of mis-statement, the Reeve is to be commended in bringing the subject out in the open and putting the rumours where they belong — in the garbage can.

Taking a brisk walk in the morning is something we'll never be accused of stealing.

Rare Earth tests uranium ore

Bulk sampling is now underway from workings of the Halo uranium mine of Rare Earth Resources in the Bancroft area, which is part of an on-going program designed to bring the property into production with ore planned to be trucked to the nearby mill of Madawaska Mines for custom treatment.

A number of meetings have been held with Madawaska officials, who have tentatively agreed to accept 3,000 tons of ore a week for two years, subject to mutually acceptable terms, Rare Earth's H. Vance White says in the annual report.

Working capital of the company amounted to $20,981 at Dec. 31, 1979 as against $33,090 a year earlier. Current financing for the project is being provided by ESSO Resources Canada Ltd. and Dickenson Mines, reportedly on an 80-20 percentage basis.

The Real Big Spenders

By W. Roger Worth

The message from the top has been a plea for Canadians to tighten their belts, spend less, save more, and generally act a little more responsibly.

While the input from government leaders may be useful at a time when high inflation and a deteriorating economy are taking their toll, federal and provincial politicians seem to have difficulty following their own advice.

A few examples:

• While all government leaders find it necessary to travel, New Brunswick Premier Richard Hatfield perhaps holds the Canadian record for leap-frogging from New York, to London, to Paris.

In 1979, for example, he was on the road for 168 days (about five months) and spent an estimated $50,000.

Roger Worth is Director, Public Affairs, Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

• Alberta is blowing $75 million on a provincial birthday party and cash is flowing like oil to finance every conceivable project, including a temporary "Niagara Falls" in Edmonton.

• In Ontario, the government is red-faced over a $15,000 grant to help send a car racing team to Europe. The car, carrying Ontario insignia, was supposed to be viewed by 300 million people watching the televised race. The team failed to qualify for the event.

• Then there's Ottawa, the granddaddy of Canada's big spenders. It's enough to say that this year's federal government deficit will probably surpass $14 billion, or more than $1,300 for every working Canadian.

The point is that Canadians can perhaps be excused if they have difficulty believing government leaders who talk about restraint, yet seem to have problems practicing what they preach.

If Canada's politicians are really serious about their belt tightening messages, they should make more concerted efforts to cut unnecessary budget items and excessive

New liquor regulations limit prices of drinks effective July 1

A recent change in the Ontario Liquor Licence Act regulations will limit the price of liquor served at Saturday night socials and other non-fund-raising events, announced Frank Drea, Ontario Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

"We're putting a ceiling on the prices which may be charged for liquor, wine and beer sold under a special occasion permit," said Mr. Drea. "Unless the function is licensed as a fund-raising event or a community festival people should not be expected to pay retail prices or more for drinks."

Under the new regulation prices for liquor sold at non-fund-raising events will be limited to $0.05 per ounce for draught beer, $0.65 per 12 ounce bottle of beer and $0.20 per bottle in excess of the LCBO purchase price for imported beer. The price of spirits such as rum, gin, vodka, rye, etc. will be limited to $0.80 per one ounce serving, $1.00 per 1 1/4 ounce serving and $1.20 per 1 1/2 ounce serving. Wine must be sold at a price per glass or bottle that does not yield more than 50 per cent in excess of the total price paid per bottle to the LCBO.

The price ceiling on alcoholic beverages has been set to allow groups to pay for costs such as hall rental, ice and mixes but will not allow a large profit.

Other changes to the regulations will:

- limit the number of fund-raising events any organization or group may hold to 10 each year. Thirty days notice must also be given to the Liquor Licence Board prior to the event to allow

- adequate time for investigation; and
- limit the number of special occasion permits which may be issued for social events to 25 per year for any group or individual.

Real estate regulation requires new agents to register sooner

Effective today, anyone who graduates from a real estate selling course must register as an agent within one year or face writing the exams again, announced Ontario Consumer and Commercial Relations Minister Frank Drea.

The new regulation also requires that a new registrant become an active real estate agent within 18 months of graduation or take the real estate course over again.

"Until June 29 anyone who completed the real estate course and passed the exam could wait up to three years before registering as an agent," said Mr. Drea. "We found that some people were waiting the maximum period while they looked for other career opportunities. In the meantime, major changes were taking place in real estate law which effectively outdated whatever they had learned in the real estate course."

The real estate industry recognized the problem and asked that the law be changed to reflect the faster pace at which changes are occurring in the industry," said Mr. Drea. "For most people a home is the largest single purchase of their lives — and they should get the best possible advice when they buy it."

Real estate courses are usually offered through community colleges. Course content is monitored by the Registrar of Real Estate and Business Brokers of the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

Runaway boat runs out of gas no injuries reported

LITTLE KENNISIS LAKE — Minden OPP Constable Boyd Jarvis was summoned here July 15th to investigate a runaway boat incident.

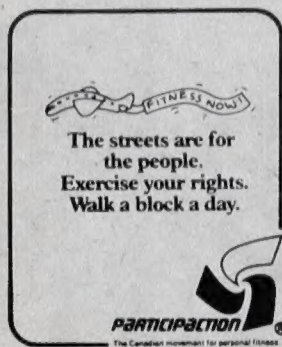

The boat, which had been operated by a 22 year old Oshawa man who went to the stern to replace a drain plug had fallen overboard and was travelling in a tight circle on the lake. It apparently came closer to shore with each turn and at one point the operator was able to catch the front but was unable to hold on.

It circled for about 15 or 20 minutes before it finally ran out of gas. Had it continued, it would have hit a dock. No one was injured in the mishap.

California Cuties Softball Team
Playing In Fenelon July 27

The world famed comedy softball team, The California Cuties, are scheduled to appear at the Rotary Ball Park in Fenelon Falls on Sunday, July 27 under the sponsorship of Fenelon Fall's Men's Recreational Softball. Game time is set for 2 p.m. with the local All Stars providing the opposition.

The Cuties have been on the road since 1946, when they were formed on the island of Guam, by Airman Trino Palacios, who still pastimes as Madam Hilda. Trino originated the idea while in the Air Force, as an entertainment venture, never dreaming it would be a career for him. The barnstorming Cuties have since appeared in just about every city and hamlet in North America, and have also entertained the troops overseas, under the auspices of the U.S. State Department.

They feature comedian Madam Hilda, but also present a top brand of softball, as their last season record of 112 and 8 will show. They don wild ladies costumes for their show, and feature such famed athletes as Hefty Helen and Hedda Hooker, who can really hustle! And who can ever forget those two glamour "girls" Fifi The Flirt, and Scaggie Maggie? Once you see them, you'll find that you can't forget. The balance of the seven man Cuties Shows the two mound aces, Wilma The Whip, and Dumpy Dora. Though we must admit the Dora is Dumpy, we know you will thrill to "her" agility on the field. Models they're not! But softball players, and comedians, they are!

So, for the very best in both softball and comedy, you are invited to join the Cuties and the All Stars when they square off at Fenelon Falls on the 27th of July, and we promise you will come away laughing and raving at the antics of the visitors. The Cuties motto: "Those who watch the Cuties play, live to laugh another day!"

Hustlers edge Brewers 5-4 in error filled game at Caygeon

BOBCAYGEON — Last Wednesday evening in Bobcaygeon, the Rockcliffe Hotel Hustlers won game number 13 despite uncharacteristic errors that allowed the Brewers to score. However, some timely hits the Bobcaygeon Brewers in ten innings.

The Brewers started the scoring when D. Jury led off the second inning with a double and eventually scored on a two-out single by Drinkwater.

The Hustlers went ahead 2-1 in the top of the third on a bunt single by Brian Mulholland, who stole second and scored on a double by Brian Shaw. Shaw was then brought home by a long single by brother Barry and a throwing error by the Brewers. In the bottom of the inning the Brewers regained the lead when lead-off batter M. Oliver reached first safely on a bunt and scored ahead of Joe Barrieu who cracked an inside the park, homer.

In the top of the fifth the Hustlers tied the game 3-3 when Craig Stamp singled, Dave Dollo sacrificed him to second and he scored on a fly ball to centre by John Welch plus an error by Brewers.

Minden went ahead 4-3 in the top of the eighth as Jim Keetch singled, John Welch singled and pinch-hitter Jack Snell doubled to score Keetch. Welch attempted to score also but was thrown out at the plate.

In the bottom of the eighth the Brewers came back to tie the game again as Glen Oliver singled and scored after Jury singled and Oliver was called out on strikes. Hustler catcher Larry Kents over-throw at first base allowed Oliver to score and tie the contest at 4-4.

The Hustlers won the game in the ninth inning when Kant's walk was sacrificed to second by Johnston and scored from there on a double by Craig Stamp who loaded the bases in the bottom of the ninth with some help by his mates due to errors, but then bore down to get the final two Brewers on strikes.

Stamp picked up the win (5-3) his fifth of the year, allowing four runs on 12 hits, walked none and struck out nine. Joe Barrieu suffered the loss, giving up five runs on 12 hits, walked three and struck out six.

The Hustlers next home game is Wednesday, June 30th at 8:00 against Lindsay's New Royal Hotel

Tournament awards, dance held at Stanhope Com. Centre

STANHOPE — Last month the first annual Carnarvon Lanes Pins over average team bowling tournament was held and after many delays in finding a site for the awards presentations and dancing, the special occasion took place on Friday evening.

The year end tournament, put on by Gord Everall commenced in May of this year, with each league (11) at the lanes participating. The top two teams from each league advanced to the finals which were held in June. The winners were declared on a pins over average format and the $60 first prize went to the Shiny Tops, representing the Maple Lake mixed league. Their total of plus 368 won by 41 pins over the runner-up in this competition over the Woodpeckers from the Monday afternoon Golden Age league.

Third place went to the Blue Jays from the Friday afternoon Golden Age group with a total of plus 185. The Woodpeckers picked up $54, while the Blue Jays split $48 among the six bowlers.

Fourth place and winners of $36 was the Jim Foster six from the Tuesday Night combines and fifth went to the Glory Seekers from the Vankoughnet mixed league and picked up $24.

Individual winners in the tournament saw three of the four merchandise prizes go to Maple Lake bowlers, Fred Cox rolled the high men's single of 309 while Marlen Robinson topped the ladies with 302. In the high triple pins over average, Maple Lakes' June Henderson finished with a plus of 153 while the Golden Age Monday league won the men's triple, with Luther Wilson rolling 121 over his average.

The winning Maple Lake league team was comprised of Dodie Robinson, Wes Stata, Brenda Harding, Dan Harding, June Henderson and Marlene Robinson.

On Sports

BY JOHN DALTON

It's that time of year. Kids are playing baseball on fields across the United States. And trying to be just like their favorite pro heroes.

This season, about half a million American youngsters are participating in Pitch, Hit & Run — the official youth program of Major League Baseball.

Bowie Kuhn, commissioner of Baseball, indicates that the big-league clubs feel it's a good way to develop interest among young fans in the sport.

Kuhn explains: "Pitch, Hit & Run makes a significant contribution to America's young people, who are among our most important fans."

"By offering these youngsters a chance to compete with their equals, and, for some, a chance to meet professional ball players, compete in major league stadiums, and perhaps the opportunity to go to the World Series, this program gives the kids something to strive for."

The nationwide competition for boys and girls ages 8 through 13 was developed several years ago. It is sponsored by Burger King in cooperation with the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. So far, more than 2 million youths have participated in the annual contest.

"It's boys and girls participating in a national competition and test their baseball skills," notes Larry Bow, a Philadelphia Phillies infielder.

Each youngster gets points by competing in three categories:

— In pitching, each is allowed three throws into a target 46 feet away. Each successful pitch is worth 50 points.

— In hitting, each is permitted three swings (fair or foul) with the longest fair fly counted towards the total point score — at one point per foot.

— In running, each races 240 feet around the bases (Little League dimensions). Score is determined by the time.

The local Pitch, Hit & Run competitions were sponsored by more than 2,500 participating Burger King restaurants across the country. Winners of this year's local events are already getting set for the district eliminations.

From there, 132 youngsters (the two highest scorers from each age group in 11 areas of the country) progress to the next level — divisional events held at the stadiums of 11 major league ballclubs from coast to coast.

Then just 12 youngsters will compete in the Pitch, Hit & Run finals on Sept. 27 in Cooperstown, N.Y., site of the Hall of Fame.

And the winners and runners-up of Pitch, Hit & Run will get their awards on the field prior to Game 2 of the 1980 World Series.

Hyland Crest bazaar and sale a success

MINDEN — Once again this year the Hyland Crest Sr. Citizen's Bazaar and Bake sale was a huge success. Each year the residents make many items for their bazaar which was held Friday afternoon. Among them were: pillow cases, octopus dolls, aprons etc. Sometimes other items are donated to help the ladies auxiliary raise funds for various activities the residents take part in each year. This year, two ladies from West Guilford, Nora (above) and Jean Morrison, donated their Raggedy Ann dolls. Another attraction was the Gypsy Fortune Teller with Gypsy "Sandy" in attendance.

Water Control report states heavy increase in storage sheds

Heavy rains approaching 2 inches (50 mm) in the Muskoka-Haliburton region caused considerable increase in the storage water held on lakes in the county recently.

The increase amounted to 3.3 percent to reach 99.7 percent on June 23, the highest average level this year. This is too much and flows have been increased to get rid of the surplus. The Gull River flow last Thursday of 12.5 cubic metres per second is the norm however, this flow was 37.3 cu. metres per second on Wednesday, June 25th.

Similar large increases have been required on the Otonabee River going from the overfilled Kawartha. The peak reached 107 cubic metres per second June 25th and 31st. The 107 cu. metres per second is less than the 120 considered the maximum for safe boating. Both of these flows of course are far in excess of the normal summer minimum of 17 cu. metres per second.

Ask Alma

Dear Alma:

My Aunt Sadye is 92 years old and one of the few remaining Suffragettes left in America today. Naturally she supports ERA and asked me to write in and say that too many meanings are being read into the Equal Rights Amendment. It is downright silly to think that girls will have to be drafted or that lavatory facilities will no longer be separate if ERA is passed.

I have enclosed the whole amendment for you to see. Anything else said about it is reading between the lines and is supposition. Will you please publish it?:

(1) Equality of rights under law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State on account of sex.

(2) The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

(3) This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification. — C.B.R.

Rural Ontario Safety Kit

The Farm Safety Association is introducing a new format for its rural elementary school program.

The 'Rural Ontario Safety Kit' will be formally introduced to a number of Ontario's County School Boards in September. Under the new program, Association staff will no longer be making presentations directly to students. With the aid of the new kit, staff will be conducting workshops for teachers to explain how the kit materials should be used. The teachers will in turn be responsible for teaching safety to their students.

The kits consist of a teacher's guide and four separate resource sections. While the principle topic is farm safety, a portion of the program is devoted to areas such as home safety, recreational safety, etc.

The Farm Safety Association hopes to eventually have the kit circulated to every rural elementary school in Ontario.

Protect Against Pesticide Perils

Farmers are using an increasingly complex and diverse selection of pest control chemicals. While these materials vary considerably in terms of human toxicity level, all pesticides should be handled with caution based on knowledge of product characteristics.

Remember that pesticides are formulated to kill certain life forms. Inhalation of, and physical contact with, any such chemicals are highly undesirable. Even those products considered to be 'safe' may have chronic effects after several years of exposure.

The cardinal rule for handling any pesticide is to first "read the label". Proper use procedures are spelled out in detail on the label. Level of product toxicity is clearly stipulated as follows:

CAUTION POISON
Slightly poisonous

WARNING POISON
Moderately poisonous

DANGER POISON
Very poisonous

Respiratory protection against toxic organic vapours is best provided by a particle respirator. Safety equipment suppliers can specify the correct filters and cartridges for protection against the chemical(s) being used. Like any safety equipment, a particle respirator must be maintained in proper working condition. Replace filters and cartridges on a regular, scheduled basis, or at any time that breathing becomes difficult due to particle build-up.

Chemical splash goggles provide eye protection when handling pesticides. Chemical-resistant coveralls of nylon or disposable materials are available. Waterproof and chemical-resistant gloves and footwear are a must for safe handling of many pest control products.

The various items of personal protective gear are marketed by safety supply firms. These companies are your best source of information on equipment for protection against specific hazards. A complete listing of Ontario's safety supply outlets is available from the Farm Safety Association.

Pesticides are valuable aids for increasing crop production. They should be treated with the same cautions you would use when handling any other poisons. Carelessness in the use of any pest control product could jeopardize your future well-being.

Tractor Safety Review

A large part of safe farm tractor operation is common sense. Most operators know the capacities and limitations of their machines, and don't take unnecessary risks. Yet how many of us, at one time or another, have not come close to rolling a tractor? A second of carelessness or preoccupation can turn anyone into a farm accident statistic.

Certainly it is vital to have a knowledge of tractor safety basics. New employees must be made aware of these facts before being permitted to operate a tractor.

Following is a checklist for safe use of farm tractors. Remember that each model has its own characteristics which must be understood by the operator.

1. The owner's manual is your most important safety booklet. Read it thoroughly before using a tractor for the first time; it should be kept with the tractor for future reference.
2. Only use a tractor for jobs it was designed to perform.
3. Make preoperational checks as outlined in the owner's manual, and service the tractor at recommended intervals.
4. Remove all risk of fire or explosion before refueling.
5. Follow recommended procedures for stopping and starting the tractor.
6. Set wheels at the widest spacing possible to avoid sideways rollovers.
7. Lock brake pedals together for high speed travel.
8. Match speed to operating conditions and loads.

Don't let your tractor bounce.

9. Never hitch a load higher than the tractor drawbar. This practice is the major cause of rearward upsets.
10. Back your tractor out when stuck in a ditch or mired in mud. If you can't back out, the only safe bet is to pull the machine out with another tractor.
11. Consider use of rollover protective frames or cabs (ROPS). Even the best operator faces some risk of a tractor rollover.
12. Absolutely no riders should be permitted on the tractor.
13. Make sure that all PTO equipment is properly shielded.
14. Follow recommended procedures for hitching equipment to the tractor.
15. Make sure your tractor is in top operating condition before traveling on the road. Slow moving vehicle signs and lights should be in position and functioning properly.

Obviously, the above are only the high points of tractor safety. Operators should have a more detailed knowledge of their machines to avoid mishaps.

The Farm Safety Association has published an 8-page booklet dealing with the safe operation of farm tractors. Titled 'TRACTOR SAFETY: It's in your hands', this is a valuable aid for training new employees. It might also be an excellent refresher for those of us who take safe tractor operation for granted! Copies of the booklet are available from our Guelph office.

Etobicoke woman charged with forgery at Hal. drug stores

HALIBURTON — Eve Kai Edwards 33, of Etobicoke has been charged by Minden OPP with six charges of forgery, four charges of altering a forged document at Haliburton village pharmacies.

Edwards obtained prescription blanks in Toronto and filled them out in this area to obtain two restricted narcotic drugs, then presented the slips for the drugs at the local drug stores.

Police report that Edwards presented these forged prescriptions once in May, twice in June and three times in July.

Edwards will appear in Minden court on July 29 on the charges. PC Wim Magee.

We'd complain to the postal service about late mail — but who's to deliver the letter?

1979 Farm Injuries Down... But...

The number of farm workers injured on Ontario farms in 1979, was down from 1978, according to injury statistics from the Farm Safety Association. 2,200 farm injuries were recorded in 1979; 2,314 injuries were recorded in 1978. The 5 percent drop in injuries was due mainly to a 30 percent drop in tobacco related injuries owing to the Blue Mould epidemic that struck the tobacco growing counties of Southwestern Ontario last year. The mould problem reduced tobacco production, and consequently the size of the labour force required to harvest the crop. The tobacco commodity normally accounts for nearly one-third of all agricultural lost-time injuries.

Agricultural related fatalities remained relatively unchanged from the previous year, with 44 fatalities being recorded in 1979. 45 fatalities were recorded in 1978. Tractors and farm equipment accounted for 75 percent of the fatalities.

The commodity groups accounting for the largest proportion of lost-time injuries were the landscape-nursery industry, 23 percent of total injuries; tobacco, 18 percent; fruit and vegetable, 11 percent; dairy, 11 percent.

Copies of the 1979 Lost-Time Injury Survey and the 1979 Farm Fatality Report are available on request from the Association's Guelph Office.

Save time in the kitchen — make enough creamy Schnitzel Hollandaise filling to serve later in the week as luncheon croquettes or party snacks.

Holland cheese
croquettes

These crunchy-on-the-outside and creamy-on-the-inside Holland cheese croquettes can be served as a special luncheon dish or as bite-sized appetizers.

Flavoured with a touch of mace, the croquette mixture also provides a base for Schnitzel Hollandaise, an elegant entree.

The croquette mixture can be refrigerated for up to five days or frozen for later use.

Croquette Mixture:

1/4 cup	butter	50 mL
1/4 cup	all-purpose flour	(50 mL)
1 cup	milk	250 mL

3	egg yolks
2-1/2 cups (725 mL)	shredded imported Holland Edam or Gouda cheese
1/2 tsp.	mace
1/2 tsp.	salt
	pinch of white pepper

Melt butter in heavy saucepan over moderate heat; blend in flour. Add milk; stir until thick. Stir in whole egg yolks, one at a time. Mix thoroughly. Stir in half the shredded cheese until cheese melts and mixture is hot but not boiling. Remove immediately from heat; mix in remaining cheese; stir until melted. Stir in mace, salt and pepper. Spread in large baking dish or pan; let cool, then chill for 30 minutes. Cut into shapes and use in any of the following.

Schnitzel Hollandaise:

4-1 inch thick slices, leg of pork (4-2 cm)	or leg of veal
4	croquette mixture
	thin slices cooked ham, slivered salt and pepper
1	flour
	egg, beaten
	fine, dry bread crumbs
	vegetable oil or butter for frying

Have butcher cut slices from the leg of pork or veal and cut pockets for stuffing. After pockets are cut, have slices (cutlets) flattened to 1/2 inch (1 cm) thick. Fill with croquette mixture and slivered ham until cutlets are rounded but not bulging. Press cutlets closed; secure with toothpicks. Salt and pepper then dust with flour. Dip into beaten egg then into fine bread crumbs. Chill in refrigerator 1/2 hour, if possible. Heat oil or butter in large heavy frying pan until very hot. (Use enough oil or butter to generously cover bottom of pan.) Fry cutlets for 3 to 4 minutes on each side or until brown. Drain on paper towels. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Luncheon Croquettes:

Cut mixture into serving portions. Dredge each piece with flour; dip in beaten egg; coat with fine bread crumbs, deep-fry or pan-fry in approximately 2 inches (4 cm) of cooking oil. Serve immediately.

Appetizer Croquettes:

Shape mixture into bite-size pieces. Dredge with flour, dip in beaten egg then coat with fine bread crumbs. Deep-fry. Serve immediately.
